The Reflector.

THURSDAY, JULY 10, 1890.

RECENT REFLECTIONS.

—Some dust—some dirt—much noise and grumbling—
Sweet girls in pink with breaths like clover;
Some talk—a dance—a storm cloud's rumbling.
Ten dollars gone—the Fourth is over.
—Solomon wants a miller.
—The circulation of the fly paper increases daily.
—Lodge work languishes on account of the hot nights.
—The speeches have all been laid away until next year.
—Faces florid, weather torrid, dust supernaturally horrid.
—Breathes there a man with soul so dead he does not wish July had fled?
—How stale, flat and unprofitable is the sound of a firecracker on July 5th.
—The Hope fair will be the most successful fair meeting in central Kansas this year.
—Orrin Hesh, of Hope, has taken a position in the grocery store of his uncle, D. S. Clarke.
—A revival party has erected a tent and will hold meetings at the corner of north Fifth and Buckeye.
—Mrs. Emma J. Lamon and her two children died June 26th at the ranch of E. McCullough, south of Solomon.
—At least forty kinds of cholera gases can be found in any well-regulated drug store at this season of the year.
—In the vicinity of Navarre last week six head of horses were killed by overheating while at work.—[Hope Dispatch].
—The wheat on the farm of Mrs. John Dewar yielded over 30 bushels, weighing 68 pounds. McMaster Bros. field averages nearly 40 bushels.
—Harry Barnes has a poem on "Maple Worms" in the Lawrence Tribune. When a man can find food for poetry in worms he has a gifted imagination.
—A ten-pound boy was added to the family of J. W. Brennaman on South Fourth street Friday. The Fourth was pretty well celebrated after all.
—"The corn of Willowdale township is not hurt a bit," said John Blagg today. "Of course it needs rain and will soon be injured, but up to date it is all right."
—The Candy factory people who had a store at the corner of Buckeye and Third have gone to greener pastures, leaving a number of good-sized debts behind.
—The State Swine Breeders' association meeting the last of this month is being arranged for by John Blagg and F. V. Close, who have been so instrumental in securing the meeting for Abilene.
—The Salina Republican of Tuesday was dated "July 12th." Salina does not seem content with inflating her population figures but must attempt to expand the number of days in the month also.
—Sheriff Mackey has sold a half interest in his livery stable to Henry Staatz, a prominent farmer and horse man of Dickinson county. The gentlemen will keep an open market for good horses.—[J. C. Union].
—Harry Phelps, a former employee, has purchased a half interest in the Hope Herald and Geo. Burroughs, the former editor, has left him in charge and gone to Kentucky and Texas to look for a more lucrative job.
—The board of examiners are busily engaged looking over the 107 sets of papers handed in by the applicants for certificates. Supt. Ford says the grades are fairly high and that certificates will be issued about Saturday.
—The annual school meeting will be held Thursday, July 31, 1890. It is the duty of district clerks to post notices of said meeting in three public places of the district at least ten days before the time fixed for the meeting.
—Paul & Jacobs have just finished a 100-barrel tank for Henry Green, of Industry. The firm has acquired a wide reputation for doing excellent work in tank making as well as in all other kinds of wood work. Their work stands the test every time.

—A. M. Cray of the Herington Times, and E. B. Burnett, of the Solomon Sentinel, were census enumerators and kick lustily over the poor pay and hard work of the position. Their present opinion is that when Uncle Sam wants another job of the kind done he will have to pay double the amount to get any one to attempt it in this county.

—The Hope Herald stole by actual count thirty-six news items from the REFLECTOR last week and then had the nerve to complain as usual that this paper was "thin." Now, Harry, don't start in as a fool simply because your partner is one. Burroughs was born that way; you have better opportunities. You have a chance in his absence to make the Herald a decent paper.

SPREAD EAGLE DAY!

FOURTH OF JULY ECHOES FROM AROUND US.

Some of the Notable Events of Independence Day's Celebration—Salina Disgusts Everybody—Herington's Display—Picnics Galore.
No more perfect day for a public holiday ever existed than greeted the arrival of Independence day, 1890. The temperature had just the right degree of coolness to make life a pleasure and the skies were clear and favorable. Nearly every one celebrated the day in some manner, even if they did no more than lounge in a hammock beneath their own vine and fig tree. Picnic parties were numerous and the cities where celebrations were held report big crowds.
SALINA'S BOOR EFFORT.
Many hundreds excursionists went to Salina by the special trains over the Rock Island and Santa Fe. Both roads treated their patrons handsomely and took them through on schedule time. Salina's celebration was too extensive to permit of a detailed description. Those who attended report a somewhat weary time. The "doins" smacked too much of tawdriness and cheap ornaments. The parade was worth going miles out of the way not to see and the famed eruption of Mt. Vesuvius reminded the onlookers much of the burning of a cow stable. Original packages were seen everywhere and the day was much marred by the drunkenness and debauchery seen on every hand. The pleasure seekers returned about midnight wearied with the excitement of the occasion.
HERINGTON'S PATRIOTISM.
Special to THE REFLECTOR.
HERINGTON, July 5.—The Fourth was celebrated according to program in this city yesterday. There were present several thousand visitors from the surrounding towns and all seemed to enjoy themselves heartily. The parade in the morning was greeted with cheers, the "antique and horrible" brigade being particularly pleasing. Going to the fine park the crowds were treated to some fine music and orations, after which came the free barbecue and ox roast at which all were treated to a royal dinner. Games, races and other amusements occupied the afternoon and in the evening all gravitated to the opera house, where, after an entertainment by home talent, dancing was indulged in until a late hour. The day passed off most successfully and pleasantly.
PICNIC PARTIES.
A number of Abilenites went out of town to the alliance picnics, but more took part in the various private picnics which were held in the vicinity of Abilene. McMaster's beautiful grove, the handsome picnic grounds in central Kansas, was the favorite resort of several parties which were composed of families with croquet sets, hammocks, lunches, etc. The river was utilized for boating and swimming, and all enjoyed the day hugely—much better than did those who mingled with the crowds in the city celebrations.
A private picnic of young people was in the grove along Mud creek by the fair grounds and they too report a day of quiet but exquisite pleasure.
The Ladies Literary league and guests enjoyed the afternoon and evening on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mahan in North Abilene.
Other private picnics of less importance were held.
BASE BALL GAMES.
The base ball games indulged in by Abilene's clubs were only partly successful. The Juniors played at Minneapolis and covered themselves with glory by winning the game by a score of 25 to 12. The Abilene's crossed bats with the Salina's and though all the surroundings seemed favorable were defeated by 16 to 8. Geo. Bright, of this city, umpired the game. Six of the runs made by the Abilene's were in one inning.
AT CHAPMAN.
A picnic at Terrapin lake and one on Chapman creek were enjoyments of the day at Chapman. A report of the proceedings in detail has not been received.
Wedded.
Probate Judge B. W. Peck joined in matrimony at the probate court room Edwin M. Franks and Alice E. Arnold, two young people of Detroit. They went on their way rejoicing leaving Judge Peck the consciousness of work well done.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

R. J. Finley is home from his eastern trip.
Al Sewell left yesterday to join his father in Washington state.
A. Leonard and Julius Waterstradt were in town buying fireworks.
Wm. Ramsey, the well-known farmer of Solomon, visited the county seat.
Miss Varnes, of St. Joseph, Mich., is visiting the family of Angus McMaster, on Turkey creek.
Geo. Ogden is now on the road for W. E. Thomas, the great Leavenworth wholesale dealer in coal.
Clem Bell, southwest Dickinson's staunch republican, was investing in torpedoes for the Fourth.
L. D. Buck, one of Newbern township's rustling farmers, was a substantial caller at REFLECTOR headquarters.
County Commissioner J. W. Baker has returned from his western trip and is presiding over the board of commissioners.
Gov. Teats, Abilene's rising young lawyer, went to Topeka to attend U. S. district court before which he has several cases.
County Treasurer John J. Cooper went to Topeka at noon to make his regular quarterly settlement with the state treasurer.
Rev. Father J. F. Leary went at noon to St. Mary's where the priests of the Leavenworth diocese have a "retreat" this week.
Dr. T. C. Ayres, of Cheever, was a pleasant caller at this office. He is one of Dickinson county's ablest agriculturists and republicans.
Hon. J. S. Hollinger was in town. He says that the wheat is magnificent and that up to date the corn has not been injured in the least.
Mr. Geo. Pinkham, of Solomon City, is helping his brother, of the Rescue, invoice, preparatory to moving into their elegant new store room on Broadway.
Sam. G. Rial, of the live stock firm of White and Rial, Kansas City, was in the city Saturday accompanied by his wife. Sam is one of the best fellows in the business and has many friends in Abilene.
Judge B. W. Peck has returned from a month's visit to his home in Illinois. For four weeks he has chased the festive spirit of youth over hill and dale and comes back much refreshed and ready for business.
G. L. Moore, of Abilene, one of the best practicing attorneys in this part of the state, was in the city and made this office a pleasant call Monday. Mr. Moore's name is mentioned in connection with the district judgeship in the next term.

WANT HIM FOR FORGERY.

BOLD ATTEMPT TO SWINDLE ABILENE MERCHANTS.

Three Forged Checks Presented and One Passed—The Rascal Escapes, but is Thought to Be in Kansas City—A Reckless Action.
[From Tuesday's Daily.]
A warrant is out for one C. C. Hussey, a former employee of the Johns carriage works, charging him with forgery. Several merchants congratulate themselves upon having refused to be swindled, and one, at least, is out a sum of money because of the forger's duplicity.
On Saturday evening Hussey, who has been employed in general rust-about work by L. B. Johns, went to F. L. Hirsch's clothing store and purchased a suit of clothes. In payment he tendered a check purporting to be drawn in his favor by Mr. Johns on one of the city banks for $22. The change was given him and he departed. He next went to the Pacific hotel, where he handed the day clerk, W. E. Moore, another check for $17, requesting him to cash it as he was in a hurry to take the stock train. Moore suspected it to be a forgery and refused to accommodate him. A comrade who had been standing on the porch watching the attempt then came in and tried to assist him, but it was of no use and they left, going to the ticket office, where the same check was offered in exchange for a ticket to Junction City. The agent would not take it and the two men departed.
No more was seen of them, but it is supposed that they went to Junction, where they are supposed to have been seen, and thence to Kansas City.
Hussey was a young fellow about 20 years of age and evidently green in business. His pal was a man of 35 and represented himself to be a stockdealer. The case is probably the old story of the younger man led into evil by an older companion. Hussey thought rather wild has not heretofore been considered capable of any such action.
The presentation of the check held by Mr. Hirsch yesterday afternoon aroused suspicion that there might be other forgeries out but up to date none have been found. The sheriff has been telegraphing for the young rascal last night and today and there is little doubt that he will eventually be captured.

CORN ALL RIGHT YET.

Leading Farmers Say the Corn Fields Are Not Badly Injured.

Sensational reports in the Kansas City papers regarding the "hot winds" in central Kansas are without basis. There has been dry weather for two weeks, to be sure, but there have been no hot winds such have in former years withered the fields almost in a day.
Leading farmers interviewed today by the REFLECTOR unite in the opinion that the corn has not yet been much damaged. The early planted fields are in some places showing the lack of moisture but the late planted ones are rank and green. It is the general opinion that the corn can stand the dry weather a week or ten days yet without serious results and this seems to be borne out by the appearance of the fields.
Good rains fell in western Kansas from Ellis west last night and it cannot be long before Dickinson county will be visited. The dry weather has enabled the farmers to save all their wheat in the best shape known in years, a fact which is of considerable importance.

A Preconcerted Arrangement.

W. S. Stambaugh is setting up his cigars this morning and bragging over his patriotism all on account of a new boy at his home. He says that if others would celebrate the Fourth as he does, there would be less kicking on the census. He also takes considerable pride in the fact that he is holding Mr. Hurd level. You will remember Mr. H. celebrated New Years in like manner. To an outsider this business looks like a preconcerted arrangement by the firm of Stambaugh, Hurd & Dewey, and we propose to watch Mr. Dewey along about Christmas.

Two Children Taken.

[From Monday's Daily.]
The heated "com" claimed as its victims two children yesterday. One was the eight months old girl of J. Burkhardt, the carpet weaver. The little one died at 9 a. m. and was buried this morning in the Enterprise cemetery.
The other was the three year old child of Mr. J. Monroe, head miller at Johnst & Rice's mill. It also died yesterday morning. A fall several weeks ago was the prime cause of its decease. The funeral was held this morning at the house, interment in the Abilene cemetery.

Taken East for Burial.

The widow of the late D. W. Engle with her children departed for Bainbridge, Pa., Tuesday accompanying the remains of the husband and father to their last resting place—the cemetery at the old Pennsylvania home. A number of River Brethren were at the depot to see them off on their sad journey.

ARE YOU COMING TO ABILENE THIS WEEK?

If you are, just drop in and see us, and if you want to surprise the home folks, yourself and every one else, just

BUY A SUIT OF CLOTHES!

The surprise will come partly in the vastly improved appearance you'll present, but mostly in the small amount of cash required to make you look every inch a well dressed gentleman. Don't forget us, please, if you want to make $15.00 go as far as $20.00 ordinarily would.

COUNCIL CHATTER.

Abilene's Fathers Hold Their Regular Monthly Session.

At the adjourned regular session last Monday the city council members were all present except Sherwood. The hot night seemed to stimulate the gentlemen's minds and considerable business was transacted.
After the approval of the minutes of last month's meetings, the first business of importance was the granting of the petitions of Maloney Bros. and W. I. Shook to conduct billiard rooms.
A petition to have the alley by McInerney's store paved was referred to the street and alley committee. Afterwards the ordinance committee was instructed to prepare an ordinance compelling each owner of property along the alley to pay his share of the expense in so paving the alley.
A number of bills were then brought up. About half of them were put through the remarkable parliamentary process of being by motion "tabled for investigation." A big red covered copy of parliamentary rules would seem to be a good purchase for the mayor and some of the council. Just how a tabled bill can be investigated is not explained.
The Bridge Co.'s bill was allowed. The Waterworks bill was not allowed.
The city treasurer's report was received and ordered published. It shows that the receipts for the quarter just ended were $6,953.60; expenditures, $6,970.36, making an overdraft of $16.73.
Assistant Marshal Cooper handed in his resignation which was tabled.
On motion the council adjourned.

UPS AND DOWNS.

The Signal Service's Report on a Week of Kansas Weather.

The report of the Kansas signal service, as given by Agent W. P. Gulick, says that the western portion of the state was fairly well watered last week. The central and eastern counties need rain.
The highest temperature for June occurred the first days of the week, when it ranged from 99 degrees to 116 degrees; but with the 4th came a cool wave which tempered the sun's rays to the shorn harvest field. The sunshine, with the temperature, has been excessive.
Results—Corn is doing well, although in the eastern and far west counties it needs rain. The wheat harvest is over in the eastern and middle divisions, and much of the wheat in stack, while in the western division it is still in progress, except in the southern counties, where the wheat, rye and barley are now in the stack. In the eastern division the oat harvest has progressed well towards completion and the flax harvest is in full progress. The oat crop is not as uniform as the wheat, ranging from poor in some sections to very good in others. The hay harvest has begun in many counties, but the wild grass is much lighter than last year. Timothy and clover are good. In Woodson new hay is being baled and shipped. Blackberries are ripe, south, but the hot, dry weather is deleterious to all fruits in the eastern counties.

A Hot June.

Prof. Show's weather report says that last month was the hottest June in 23 years record, except June 1881 which surpassed it by only 0.23 degree of mean temperature. The rainfall was deficient, being less than half the average amount, and the smallest June precipitation on the record since 1872. The rain however was well distributed and crops have suffered no damage from the present deficiency. The cloudiness was below average, and the wind velocity above the normal by nearly a thousand miles.
The average temperature was 77.02 degrees which is 3.05 degrees above the June average. Rainfall was 2.12 inches, 2.78 inches below June average.

GRAIN TAKES A BOOM.

All Products Make a Sharp Advance in the Markets.

A sharp upward tendency in the grain markets was noted yesterday and still continues, a satisfactory state of affairs for the farmers and dealers.
Kansas City advices say that wheat was higher at all speculative markets from the opening to the close, last prices at Chicago being 2 cents higher than Thursday's close. The excitement in the corn market, together with a war scare in Europe and a continuation in the advances of English prices of wheat, were the controlling news factors in the market. Reports from the northwest stated that the wheat is not developing well, owing to the excessive rains and hot weather. Receipts of winter wheat are increasing. For the three days since last Thursday St. Louis has had 300 cars, and there have been 70 cars at Kansas City.
Oats in Chicago advanced for the same reason which put corn up. The September option advanced one cent.
The cash market—wheat all over the country advanced with the speculative markets. At Duluth wheat was up 2 1/2 cents and at Minneapolis 2 1/2 cents.

Wedded in Ohio.

Eastern exchanges give us further particulars regarding the marriage of John H. Engle, formerly editor of the Chapman Courier, of which mention was some time ago made in the REFLECTOR. He was wedded May 28th to Miss Sarah Climenhaga, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Climenhaga, wealthy residents of Steubenville, Ohio. The bride is a member of the River Brethren church, prominent in Sunday school and church circles. The wedding was at the home and was officiated at by Rev. Asa Bears and was followed by a reception. Mr. Engle has the hearty congratulations of a wide circle of friends in Dickinson county and the best of wishes are extended by the REFLECTOR. Mr. and Mrs. Engle are at present visiting in Canada and will return to Belle Springs, via Abilene, about August 1st. They will be welcomed by all who know the genial John and his bonnie bride will be made to feel at home.

Dissolution Notice.

The partnership heretofore existing between Wm. B. Giles and D. R. Gordon, under the firm name of Giles & Gordon, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. Wm. B. Giles having purchased Mr. Gordon's interest in above firm will continue the grain business and settle all accounts of the firm.

Funeral Services.

Among the last of the tributes of respect paid to the remains of David Engle were the funeral services held in the Abilene meeting house, Brethren church, Sunday. The exercises were conducted by Elder Jesse Engle and Rev. Noah Zook. The latter selected a text from II Corinthians v. 1-6. After delivering an able and appropriate address, he was followed by Elder Jesse Engle, who made use of Job xiv, 14, "If a man die, shall he live again?" His remarks were brief and to the point. The services in the church were closed by the relatives forming into a procession and, with the friends, proceeding to the place where the corpse lay embalmed, at Eicholtz's undertaking parlors.
On Tuesday the family with the corpse, started on their journey to Pennsylvania, where the body will be laid in its final resting place.
The age of the deceased was 43 years, 10 months and 20 days. A child 1 year and 3 months old was buried some few weeks since and the services were also in memory of its departure. The attendance was very large, friends coming from twenty miles away to attend the services. The relatives have the sympathy of all.
